Dear Phil:

This is to confirm our telephone conversation on August 26, 1955, concerning the possibility of your investigating the feasibility of using stainless steel or aluminum cans for long-term storage in contact with the ground. These cans would be similar to the common "tin can" and would be used in a variety of sizes. It is suggested that various can manufacturing companies such as Ellis and American should be contacted, and a determination made as to whether they are willing and able to make such cans.

It is suggested that such a study be performed under our general task. It will be necessary to forward a letter to this office indicating your desire to perform this work along with the time and money required. If there are any questions, please contact Joe or myself.

Sincerely,

Bill
